

Whanganui literary festival

READERS WRITERS BOOKLOVERS

Children's Events

Saturday 14 September

POP, POP, POP 1.30 – 3.00pm (7 to 9 year-olds)

The Sarjeant Gallery presents a hands-on pop-up book adventure. Come and learn about pop-up books and then make your own. Combine creative writing with art-making techniques. Numbers are strictly limited so bookings are essential.

Venue: Sarjeant Gallery, Queen's Park
Bookings: Sarjeant Gallery (06) 349 0506
(bookings taken from 25 August 2013)
Admission: Free

Walking, Talking Pop-up Books! 7.00 – 8.00pm

Witness the magic that is a live, walking, talking pop-up book! Our favourite New Zealand stories will be brought to life in an hour-long show presented by members of the Cheryl Amos Academy of Drama.

Venue: The Atrium of the Whanganui Regional Museum, Watt St
Bookings: Not required
Admission: Koha appreciated

Sunday 15 September

POP, POP, POP 11.00am – 12.30pm (10 to 13 year-olds)

The Sarjeant Gallery presents a hands-on pop-up book adventure. Come and learn about pop-up books and then make your own. Combine creative writing with art-making techniques. Numbers are strictly limited so bookings are essential.

Venue: Sarjeant Gallery, Queen's Park
Bookings: Sarjeant Gallery (06) 349 0506
(bookings taken from 25 August 2013)
Admission: Free

Sunday 15 September (continued)

Special Guest Story-time

1.00 – 1.45pm

Wanganui District Library welcomes you to their 'Special Guest Story-time'. Come along and listen to stories read by four well-known personalities from our community.

Venue: The Davis Central Library, Queen's Park

Bookings: Not required

Admission: Free

Poetry Pops Up at the Museum

Anytime between 2.00pm and 3.00pm

Search the Museum for the pop-up performers from our favourite New Zealand poems playing their favourite characters, objects and animals. You are bound to be surprised – they can pop up anywhere!

Venue: Whanganui Regional Museum, Watt St

Bookings: Not required

Admission: Free

*The Whanganui Literary Festival Trust thanks
the Sarjeant Gallery, Wanganui District Library and Whanganui Regional Museum for their support of the 2013 Festival.*

Whanganui Regional Museum